

We don't talk a lot about covenants today, but we should. Covenants are a key in God's plan to restore humanity to its divine calling. There are five divine-human partnerships in the Old Testament that drive the narrative to its climax in the final covenant with Jesus at the Cross.

2/16 ...Covenant with Noah: a Royal Grant covenant; there is nothing that Noah or his descendants had to do to ensure that this promise is fulfilled. Instead, its validity is purely in God's faithfulness.

2/23 ...Covenant with Abraham: a covenant that required obedience and action to receive the promises.

3/1 ...Covenant with Moses: a conditional promise, dependent on the peoples' response to the law God gives through His servant Moses.

3/8 ... Covenant with David: a Royal Grant covenant that his descendants would rule over Israel forever. The promise of an eternal kingdom is ultimately fulfilled in Christ, who is of David's kingly lineage.

3/15 ... The New Covenant: despite the failure of God's people to live up to the covenants that had been made, God graciously made a new one with His people.

3/22 ... Covenant of the Cross: this promise finds its ultimate fulfillment in Jesus Christ as it is through Him we receive forgiveness of our sins, are indwelt by the Holy Spirit, and receive eternal life.
